

Through Awareness,
Greater Safety

Sow a thought, reap an act;

Sow an act, reap a habit;

Sow a habit, reap a character;

Sow a character, reap a destiny.

William Thackeray

At Slavens we take the high road,

We genuinely care about ourselves, each other,
and our school.

We show and receive respect by: using kind words
and actions, listening thoughtfully, standing up for ourselves and others,
and taking responsibility
for our own behavior and learning.

This is who we are even when no one is watching!

With what's been happening lately, I've been thinking a lot about The code of conduct. I've realized how important it is to care about each other during hard times, and help the people who have lost loved ones in these tragic events. We have to take the high road, and control our anger and rage. They won't make things better, ~~it'll~~ just lead to more death and pain and that will just make things worse. Life is very fragile and can be broken very easily. We must unite and stand as one, help each other and stop this from happening again. This is who we are, and everybody is watching.

“If the fires that innately burn inside youths are not intentionally and lovingly added to the hearth of community, they will burn down the structures of culture, just to feel the warmth.”

Michael Meade
